Jessica joins the Home Loans team as a first vice president and residential loan manager with nearly 15 years of mortgage experience. During her 10 years as a mortgage consultant with one of the nation's largest financial services companies, Jessica earned many national accolades for her outstanding production and customer service. She was consistently ranked in the top 10 percent in sales volume nationwide, and was recognized as a top purchase producer for a number of years. Jessica most recently served as Chief Production Officer with Hawaii's largest locally-owned mortgage banker, leading the retail, joint venture and wholesale divisions.

Jessica loves watching dreams come true. Whether it's a team member reaching their goal or a client buying their dream home, making dreams happen is Jessica's passion and brings much fulfillment to her world. She's excited to be able to utilize that passion to help her clients at American Savings Bank.

A graduate of University Laboratory High School, Jessica went on to attend Central Michigan University on a full volleyball scholarship. She graduated Magna Cum Laude with a triple major in Logistics, Operations Management, and Marketing. Outside of work, Jessica enjoys spending time with her husband, two children, and three dogs. When she's not busy shuttling her kids to various activities, you'll likely find Jessica being outdoors and active – boating, snowboarding, writing, playing guitar, or just hanging out on the beach! She is a resident of Kailua.
